

We all Bleed Red

We all bleed the same.

Life is real and is not a game.

Life is something each person must chose.

Not a game if you win you win but there are consequences if you lose.

Life can be a total mess.

You love someone but to others that life they could care less.

A loved one, friend, a wife, son, or daughter.

For someone that does not care they are off to the slaughter.

God only knows we all bleed red.

It hurts to lose a loved one when others don't care our loved ones are dead.

Sometimes we feel life is all about gloom and doom.

And God knows we can carry nothing from the womb to the tomb.

So, if it is the lust of this life you desire.

Let me tell you this you are playing with fire.

As for myself I can't believe I followed the devil into his sick mind game.

As the flint struck fire, the devil tried to make me his blame.

But better life comes in serving Jesus Christ our LORD.

He is love, and though life is about waiting, Jesus is our heavenly reward.

Amen

Written by: Dale Lee Gordon, October 25, 2017